General Session Features: “A Systems Approach to Student Success”

TCCTA members are urged to attend the general session of the TCCTA Annual Convention, on Thursday, February 23, 2017, at the Renaissance Hotel in Austin.

Dr. Judith A. Ramaley, President Emerita and Distinguished Professor of Public Service at Portland State University, will offer the keynote address. Dr. Ramaley has been for many years a noted leader in organizational change in higher education, both as a faculty member and as an administrator. In her work, she has developed meaningful ways to engage people and structures throughout the institution to improve outcomes for students. She has discovered that probing inquiry, and critical dialogue, are key ingredients in creating authentic, lasting change. In her many leadership roles, she has empowered faculty, staff, and administrators by hearing their voices and honoring their contributions to the work of the institution.

In her remarks, Dr. Ramaley will explore strategies for effecting positive change, and suggest ways to find coherence in the disrupted environments in which we operate.

Dr. Ramaley holds an appointment as a Senior Scholar with the Association of American Colleges and Universities. She is also a member of the board of Second Nature, an organization committed to create a healthy, just, and sustainable society through the transformation of higher education.

Prior to returning to Portland State University, Dr. Ramaley served as President of Winona State University, in Minnesota. She has served as a Visiting Senior Scientist at the National Academy of Sciences and was Assistant Director, Education and Human Resources Directorate (EHR) at The National Science Foundation (NSF). While serving at NSF, Dr. Ramaley also held a presidential professorship in biomedical sciences at the University of Maine and was a Fellow of the Margaret Chase Smith Center for Public Policy. Dr. Ramaley was President of The University of Vermont (UVM) and Professor of Biology from 1997 to 2001. She was President and Professor of Biology at Portland State University in Portland, Oregon for seven years from 1990-1997.
